D 101.2:

CHICO STATE ARMY ROTC AT SHASTA COLLEGE

The United States Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) is looking for the dedicated, mature, hard-charging man or woman who desires to become a United States Army Officer. Shasta College students may participate by cross-enrolling at Chico State.

CURRICULUM

Academics: You'll be challenged with courses covering military history, leadership, management, ethics, tactics, and the Army in society. All count for academic credit. Lab training refines military and leadership skills.

Physical Fitness: Every cadet is an athlete. You'll have the opportunity to participate on winning Army intramural teams in sports like football, soccer, volleyball, basketball, softball, and floor hockey. All cadets are responsible for maintaining themselves in excellent physical condition.

Leadership: Become a good leader. You'll be trained and tested in leadership skills; you'll hold cadet leadership positions; and on the playing field you'll demonstrate teamwork, courage, followership, self-discipline, and esprit.

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Rappelling, hiking, marksmanship, patrolling, drill team, helicopter airmobile training, military skills competition, and social events – a well-rounded selection for any interest! Most importantly, cadets who qualify can attend the US Army Parachutist School or the US Army Air Assault School in Hawaii.

FINANCIAL AID

$100 per academic month during the last two years in Army ROTC at Chico State. Compete for ROTC scholarships that pay all tuition, fees, and a large allowance for books each semester. Or, join the Army Reserve or National Guard while in ROTC and earn nearly $4800 per school year.

VETERANS

Use your military experience for advanced placement credit. Take full advantage of your veteran's benefits in addition to Army ROTC's financial aid.
